

2023 2024: From the Principal's Desk: Opening letter to families

Hello to all the wonderful families of our school. We are so excited for you to be a part of our community. As our mission states, we are looking forward to working with you and helping your child become empowered as they transform into good stewards of our community and beyond. In the coming weeks and years that your child is in our school we look to see forward movement for their journey toward our Lord through service, good works, hard work, and peaceful interactions with the other members of the ASA community.

We do ask a lot from our families and students as well as the faculty and staff. We look for everyone to work together to make the kingdom of God present here and now. We look for everyone to see each other through the eyes of our Savior Jesus and see others of value and goodness. We look for everyone to practice the good work of Mercy, forgiveness, empathy, and love with those around them. Each day we talk about and work toward these much needed and important goals for our community and beyond. We want everyone to see and experience the love of Jesus Christ in our building, at our events, and in the world.

Families are asked to partner with the faculty and staff and help the children see how cooperation, understanding, and respect look and sound like. We believe if we can do this the students will see the role models we were made to be and develop in their loving relationships with others and more importantly with our Lord Jesus Christ. This is not so easy in our world today. I ask you to make that commitment and work with us for this goal. Together our village of believers can do awesome and powerful things in our world that is struggling. We can make a difference.

Our Accreditation goal continues to use the theme of the Catholic Social teachings of Everyone is made in the image and likeness of God and has dignity along with our yearly theme of, "If you love me then you will keep my commandments" and continue this work of developing this sense in our students. God is always with us when it is good and when it isn't good. We want to make sure our students not only learn academically but also learn that God is unending in His love and he is there with us. We are not alone and because of this we don't have to feel alone.

All Saints Academy is a special place. We aren't perfect, but we work every day to help everyone feel important, feel valued, and feel loved. We work every day to help them get where they need to academically, socially, spiritually, and emotionally. Please join our team and help us make change through our young people and the future leaders of our world.

Yours in service through Jesus our Savior,
Mrs. Miller, Principal
